UNWIND IN THE HEART OF NATURE

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

Aenean massa sociis

Recharge your batteries and try out an activity - for example walking, horse riding, cycling or canoeing. Amateur golfers will be pleased to find accredited golf courses in the Dordogne Valley. Although the Dordogne is inland, where it lacks in sea it makes up for in freshwater swimming. Discover its river bank beaches, swimming pools and water parks.

FAMOUS GASTRONOMY GASTRONOMY

Aenean massa sociis

Varying according to the seasons, market stalls display strawberries and nuts from Périgord, boletuses, black truffles, and produce made from duck or goose such as foie gras, all used to make delicious traditional dishes. Accompany them with local wines - whether red, white or rosé - for an unforgettable gastronomic experience.

MYSTERIOUS UNDERGROUND CAVES AT DORDOGNE VALLEY

PREHISTORY AND CAVERN

Aenean massa sociis

The Dordogne harbours an underground network of countless treasures, including its natural caves, also known as crystal caves. These differ from parietal caves in their formation of concretion, columns and stalagmites.

DISCOVER DORDOGNE VALLEY

The largest reserve in France, covering an area of 24,000km2, it extends across 11 French departements and 5 regions.

From the volcanoes of the Auvergne to the Gironde estuary, the landscapes and nature of the Dordogne are bountiful, diverse and quite remarkable.

The Dordogne river and its tributaries have left their considerable mark on this region and its arable land, with many different activities benefiting from their existence.

Thanks to the efforts of everyone, this magnificent riverbasin has been able to preserve the subtle balance between economic development and the preservation of its ecosystems.

It is these characteristics which had a positive impact on UNESCO's decision
